COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Saturday, January 16, 1904.

D. E. O'KEEFE.....EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

The total value of the productions of the dairies and creameries located in this State and their by-products is estimated at $16,000,000.

San Francisco Bay is acknowledged to be one of the best and most spacious harbors of the world, the area being about 460 square miles.

Southern California is doing some good tourist advertising. In one of the magazines is a page picture divided into two scenes. One shows a northerner standing, half-frozen, in a snow-drift; the other a woman picking wild flowers by a California roadside. It is a picture which attracts instant notice and ought to make business for the citrus belt tourists resorts.

The Railway and Engineering Review describes the first important trip made by the submarine boat constructed near St. Petersburg, Russia, as a brilliant success. The journey from Kronstadt to Bjorkoe and back was made in thirty-six hours, of which twenty-six were passed uninterruptedly below water, the submarine making eight to ten knots an hour. Though a terrible storm was raging in the Gulf of Finland at the time, it is stated that the effect of the waves was not felt.

THE PANAMA REVELATIONS.

President Roosevelt's message to Congress setting forth the history of the events in Columbia and Panama in connection with the negotiations for the canal is a candid, luminous statement which answers all queries to which the affair has given rise and reveals the attitude of our own government in light which will evoke the plaudits of the American people. The President shows that the proposition which we made to Colombia was more than generous to that country, and he points out that Colombia itself, just after the revolution at the isthmus took place, virtually acknowledged this by agreeing, indirectly and secretly, to meet all the United States' demands, providing we would permit her to attempt to re-establish her authority at the isthmus, and thus make us a party to the overthrow of the regime set up by the people of Panama.

Columbia's whole course throughout the affair was actuated by a rapacity which was defeated by its own venality and blindness, and by the courage and honesty of the administration at Washington. It was the purpose of the authorities at Bogota to cheat the French syndicate out of its interest in the canal, and thus to get for themselves the $40,000,000 which we agreed to pay to that company. This conspiracy to make the United States a participant in the steal from the citizens of a nation with which we are on terms of the utmost cordiality was happily defeated by the revolution at the isthmus and by the promptness and intelligence of the Washington government.

Every criticism which has been advanced by the enemies of the canal and also by the enemies of the administration has been answered by the President with a frankness and a comprehensiveness which will silence opposition. The friends of the treaty will now be able to make quick work with that compact. Gorman and his junta of obstructionists have the ground cut from under them with a neatness and a thoroughness which will overwhelm and humiliate them. Much more than a two-thirds vote will be obtained for the treaty, and the vote will take place earlier than the obstructionists dreamed. The world, especially that part of it comprised in the United States, will applaud the action of the government at Washington, and President Roosevelt and his party will be immeasurably strengthened thereby in the career of 1904.

Richard Reynolds who attended Sequoia high school two years ago left Palo Alto Tuesday for San Francisco where he signed articles as an able seaman on the transport Sherman.

Mr. Stoddard, proprietor of the Yosemite Stage Company, was in town Tuesday with his friend D. A. Curry.

Mr. Curry expects an early and extensive Yosemite camping season this year.

Henry McEvoy, son of Supervisor McEvoy, was freeman on the engine which turned over last Saturday after running off of the derrick at night near Tanforan.

Mr. McEvoy was not injured in any way and is not in the least disturbed by his adventure.

John Nelson who recently arrived home from the Honolulu has secured a good clerical position in the Freight Auditors department of the Southern Pacific Company.

Mr. Nelson is an expert clerk and his promotion with the company will no doubt be rapid.

The First National Bank of Palo Alto was launched among the business concerns of the college city and is now doing a general banking business and will soon send out an issue of bank notes. The directors of the institution are representative business men of Palo Alto, San Jose and San Francisco.

The first allotment of State high school funds has been made by State Superintendent Kirk. The amount apportioned is $164,052.90. There are 143 high schools and under the one-third clause of the new law each school gets $382.50, and the rate per pupil on average daily attendance is $7.39. This will provide Sequoia Union high school approximately one thousand dollars.

For sale or rent: A choice residence site at Belmont, beautifully located, sheltered from the winds and within ten minutes' walk from the depot, and containing 26 acres. House of ten rooms, orchard, outbuildings, etc. Will be sold at reasonable figure on liberal terms, or rented to a responsible party. For information inquire at this office.

The bulletin-board of the English department at Stanford university announces two of Sequoia's students successful in that precious examination, English. They are: L. T. Ross and G. C. Halsey. This examination is beyond doubt the severest test exacted at Stanford, and the doubtful outcome of it has led to the popular belief in the "adhesives" system of marking.

The San Mateo County Building and Loan Association has granted loans since the first of the month amounting to $12500 on property located in South San Francisco, Burlingame, Redwood City and Palo Alto. The Association is a safe institution that has the confidence of the people and is meeting with wonderful success. Its assets now amount to the enormous sum of over $200,000. Redwood City may justly feel proud of such an institution.

The five-room cottage which has been in the process of construction on the county road in the Hooper tract was completed last Saturday, and on the same day the deed for the property was turned over by Mr. Hooper to J. E. Enzor for whom the dwelling was erected. Mr. Enzor designed the plan of the house and has personally supervised much of the construction. It is a neat little home and arranged with all of the latest conveniences.

The installation of the newly elected officers of the Foresters of America was attended by over 70 members from Redwood, 30 from Palo Alto, and 14 from Mountain View. After the installation Grand Chief Ranger Gabriel of Santa Clara made some interesting remarks and photographer Kline took a flash-light photograph of the group. A sumptuous repast was then served which lasted until after one o'clock. Among those of the local court who responded to toasts were Dr. J. L. Ross, court physician, who told some very interesting reminiscences of his early practice here and at Mayfield, and Mountain View.

John Read and Hjalmar Holmquist also responded and talked interestingly of the order. The visitors were entertained royally and voted Court Madrone a jolly good fellow.

The San Mateo County Savings Bank held its first meeting last Monday to organize and elect officers. A full representation was present. A. J. Marcus, the well-known capitalist and president of the Frank Tanning Company was unanimously chosen president and George H. Rice was elected vice-president.

With the exceptions of the former directors of the Bank of San Mateo County were chosen directors of the new bank. Deposits will be received with out fail on February 1st when a fair rate of interest will be given.

The new institution begins its career with every indication of success, the floors which have been connected with the old bank are familiar with the wants and needs of the people and will do every thing in their power to please their patrons.

Pinoleville is reaching out for trade and not only meets the every-day wants of its customers but is always on the look-out for new lines of goods, as his stock shows.

Hans Madsen has sold his messenger business between Santa Rosa and San Francisco and is spending some time with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Helmer.

Ed O. Kelsey of Santa Cruz, who was secretary of the Nolan logging camp last season, has accepted the agency for the Scranton correspondence school and was in town this week looking after the business of that institution.

Ed Tribolet and Henry Leahy have enlisted in the Navy and are now on board the U. S. S. Independence at the Mare Island Navy Yard. The former goes as a coal-passer, while the latter has enlisted as an able seaman.

Mrs. Carrie Robinson was here Thursday calling on the friends of her girlhood. She is residing with her husband at Santa Barbara. The latter, who has been an invalid for some time, is slowly improving.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Robinson returned from a protracted trip in Europe. The first south-bound S. P. train was derailed near Holy Cross Thursday morning, and as a result the thirteen Stanford students did not attend their usual classes.

Assessor Hayward was also affected by the non-arrival of the train at San Carlos but in order to attend to the faithful conduct of his office, that conscientious official took his foot in his hand and "hiked" it to the Courthouse.

Mr. Luscher is circulating a petition which is being signed by all the business people of the town and the citizens generally. The petition sets forth the fact that the town lights have been put out at midnight and that many accidents have occurred by reason of the darkness after 12 o'clock. It is sought to have the town trustees keep the lights burning until morning.

ON A SUCCESSFUL TOUR.

Bates-Watson Company Will Play Here Next Week.

The famous Bates-Watson Company will play a two nights' and matinee engagement Friday and Saturday, January 22nd and 23rd, at the Alhambra.

The comedy drama, "Jim, the Westerner," "Mister Katzenjammer and Kids," and the roving farce, "Whose Baby are You?" Popular prices will prevail. We publish the following from the Santa Cruz Sentinel, of the opening performance:

"When Tom Bates told us that the company in which he and Al Watson are interested is one of the strongest on the road, he told the truth, as the crowded audience that witnessed the opening performance at the opera house Monday evening will testify. The audience was very enthusiastic, which was an indication that the company will do a big business for the rest of the week. The play was 'Jim, the Westerner,' in which Al Watson played the leading male character and played it well. In having Jennie Kelton for the leading lady the managers are to be congratulated, for she has ability and talent. There was something doing all the time, for between acts specialties were given which were far above of many we have seen here. Esco Ives is a good singer. Aline Wallace in her German songs made a hit. Adelaide Keith won the house by her cute manner of singing her songs. The tough song earned several encores. What we like about the company is that the members know their business. They do not slight any of the details."

Friday evening, "Jim, the Westerner," Saturday, "Whose Baby are You," matinee, "Mr. Katzenjammer and Kids." Seats on sale at Pioneer Drug Store.

Mustered Out.

William Weitzel, a native of Germany, aged 66 years, answered the final roll call at the home of his step-daughter, Mrs. F. C. Bomberg, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Weitzel during the Civil War enlisted in Company K, Sixth California Infantry, and served through the war, being mustered out at the Benicia barracks after the close of hostilities in 1865. When the young man enlisted he was following the occupation of mining and when he received his honorable discharge he returned to his home in Sierra county where he remained until a few months ago when he came to Redwood to live. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases for over four years and his death comes as a release from pain. His funeral was held from the Congregational church Monday afternoon.

Rev. F. H. Maar came from Oakland and conducted the services. The interment was in the Grand Army of the Republic plot at Union cemetery.

Alexander Gordon and W. A. Price have entered into partnership for the purpose of conducting a real estate and insurance business. They will have their headquarters at the St. Charles hotel.

HIGH SCHOOL "DREAMS."

Breezy Zephyrs From Sequoia's Temples of Learning.

No Politics in Class Elections—Girls' Glee Club Serenade Appreciated.

All young lady students of secondary school who intend entering Stanford are requested to note the following, quoted from the University Register:

"Fifteen credits are required for admission in full undergraduates standing. * * * These fifteen credits may be made up of English composition (two credits) and such other subjects (aggregating thirteen credits) as may be selected by the candidate. * * * Twelve credits are accepted for admission in partial standing; but on account of the limitation upon the number of women students, in and after August, 1904, women will not be received in partial standing."

The Times-Gazette has received a communication from one high in standing at Stanford to the effect that in and after the above date positively no women students will be received at the University unless they have previously passed the English Composition examination. * * * The authorities are compelled to make this stipulation owing to the rapid increase in the number of co-eds. Fortunately Sequoia's students are generally very successful in passing this exacting test.

Only four members of Sequoia's graduating class of 1903 have registered for the second semester at Stanford University. Taking into consideration the fact that last year's class of fifteen was the second largest ever given diplomas, there seems to be but a small per cent of those graduating seeking higher education. The class of 1900 sent its members to our local university in a body; five out of nine of the '01 students attended, and the class of '02 contributed seventy per cent of their number to the strength of the cardinal. It seems that university work is not as popular as formerly.

Owing to the agitation produced over the late class election in the junior class, the recently chosen officers handed in their resignations at the last meeting. The members of the organization, however, refused to allow the officers to be removed, and thereby attesting to the fact that the current report relative to the fact that the present officers gained their positions by political skill.

Although Sequoia reopened January 4th, the second semester did not commence until the 11th. Therefore the first week of school only finished up the fifth month of the first half year.

The senior class is now occupied in the English department with Syle's from Milton to Tennyson. It is thought that much time will be spent this semester in preparation for the examinations at Stanford, especially for the test in composition.

The inside work of the new high school building is almost completed, and it is the intention of the contractor to turn the structure over to the trustees in a very short time. The students will enter their new home immediately after the March vacation.

The Girl's Glee Club serenaded the home of Miss Rice on the evening of January 6th. After several pleasing selections the party was invited within, and the entire company enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Miss Alice Jacobson rendered an instrumental selection, and after songs by the glee club and by F. J. Jeffers, A. B. Way delighted his hearers by some select reading. Refreshments were then served and a song by the sextette followed. At a late hour the party dispersed after a very happy evening. Among those present were: Bessie Winter, Clyde Watson, Edna Hayward, Alma Nobis, Pauline Becker, Belle Vallejo, Harriet Leigh, Cora Lovie, Lottie Genocchio, May Durham, Marion Fraser and Miss Linscott.

The class of '04 will probably receive a new recruit within a short time. L. Montague Drew, of the Fresno high school contemplates entering Sequoia, where he will prepare for the entrance examinations at Stanford next August.

The latest addition to the junior class is Miss Ruth Robertson. Miss Robertson has attended the Lowell high school for the past two years, but owing to her residence here will probably be under the guidance of the purple and white until she graduates in 1905.

Miss Louise Barrett of '06, has returned to Sequoia. Miss Barrett was compelled to remain away from school for some little time before the holidays, and is now endeavoring to make up the time lost during her indisposition.

Harry Moore is another of the old pupils who has begun the new year at the local institution. He will pursue the same course as formerly, including the commercial work in his line of study.

Several teachers of the grammar school spent a day in visiting during the week, and during their absence the Misses Lane, Hansen and Kertel of '04 endeavored to teach the young idea how to shoot.

Albert Mansfield of the class of '02, visited the seniors in their laboratory last Monday afternoon. Mansfield is now studying law at Stanford.

In order to obtain a piano for the new high school building the school plans to give a farce and entertainment within a short time. Although a profound obnoxiousness prevails upon this subject at Sequoia, it is now definitely known that the personnel will be made up entirely of high school pupils. In addition to this the four classes have volunteered to contribute a fixed sum each month for the benefit of the fund.

MURDERED IN HAWAII.

Allie Glennan Blown Up by Dynamite by a Heavensent Jap.

Word was received here Tuesday which horrified the citizens of our quiet little town. The message was from Miss Mamie Winnie in Honolulu to Fred Glennan and contained the words "Allie dead. Explosion 8th." The sad news was received by John W. Glennan, the father of deceased, and the shock was almost more than he could stand.

The hardest part, the breaking of the news to mother, had to be done and only those who know how good a son he had been to his aged parents can in the least appreciate what a blow the news was.

Fred Glennan then went to San Francisco to the San Francisco office of Alexander and Baldwin, for whom Allie worked, to see if they could find out anything about the affair. They were unable to do so and it was not until the following telegram from Honolulu appeared in the city papers that the particulars of the sad occurrence were known:

HONOLULU, Jan. 12.—A. H. Glennan, formerly of Redwood City, Cal., an engineer on a plantation at Makawala, in Kauai county, was murdered last Friday night by means of a stick of dynamite, which was exploded under his bed in a tent. Japanese gamblers whom Glennan had raided, are suspected of the crime.

The firm for which Mr. Glennan has been employed ever since he has been on the islands, now nearly five years, and by whom he was held in the highest esteem, will make every effort to have the remains brought home, so that the bereaved parents will at least have the poor consolation of visiting their boy's grave.

Albion Hussey Glennan was born in Redwood City twenty-nine years ago. He went through the Redwood City schools and afterwards attended the Cogswell Polytechnic College in San Francisco. He learned the printers trade and worked for several years in the composing rooms of the two local papers. In 1899 he left for Honolulu and from the moment of his arrival was fortunate in all his dealings. He was an earnest, hard-working young man and secured advancement after advancement until he became first assistant engineer and superintendent of construction work on one of the largest plantations in the islands. This position he was occupying at the date of his untimely death.

As a boy in town Allie was universally liked. He was always good-natured and his sunny disposition won him friends wherever he went. He was a conscientious Christian and was a member of the Congregational Church and Christian Endeavor Society, and when he left he resigned from the secretary-treasurership of the Sunday School.

His sterling worth is also shown in the beautiful manner in which he supplied the every want of his parents and with careful thoughtfulness he helped in every way to lighten the load for his father, whom he considered to have earned a rest.

His dealings with his fellow men were always of the fairest kind and his terrible taking away from this earth is but an earlier taking possession of the treasures which he laid up for himself above. There can be no doubt but that when Allie Glennan stood before the Giver and Taker of life he heard the words "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

The following resolutions were adopted at the annual meeting of the Congregational Church of this city held last Thursday:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His wisdom has deemed it wise to call home to His Father's mansion one of our members and a brother in Christian faith, Brother Albion H. Glennan;

And Whereas, We desire to say a word of comfort to the father and mother of our late brother; and

And Whereas, We further wish to express our admiration of the many noble traits possessed by our late co-worker in the Master's field;

Resolved, That, as we bow our heads in resignation to the Father's will, our hearts go out in sympathy to the members of that family from whom have been taken a noble, loving son and brother, and if there is aught in God by word or deed, to dispel the gloom hanging over that home, we stand ready to respond in any way;

Resolved, That we are as proud as are the members of his family of the record he has made, his ever upward growth and progress, his nobility of heart and ideal love of home and family, his steadfast faith and pure life, and we feel that no better model of true manhood could be held up before our boys than that of our late brother; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions passed at the annual church meeting of the Redwood City Congregational Church, Redwood City, California, January 14, 1904, be spread upon the minutes of said meeting; that they be printed and engraved and that they be read at our late brother's funeral;

Attest: Clara M. Shelley, Church Clerk.

A later cablegram has informed the bereaved family that Allie Glennan was interred in the little church-yard cemetery at Waimea, one-half mile from where the death took place on the 9th inst. The pastor of the church was a very dear friend and attended to the obsequies.

Social Function in Army Circles.

Corporal and Mrs. Worth, who occupy a pretty home within the reservation of Fort Mason, tendered a farewell reception to Sergeant John Leakes on January 6th. The Sergeant has served many years in Company C, Thirteenth Infantry, and when his comrades resolved to give him a farewell they could find no more hospitable home than that of Corporal and Mrs. Worth.

Mrs. Worth was formerly Miss Grimmenstein of this city. Mrs. Worth certainly knows how to entertain, and this is not the first instance where she has shown what a charming woman she can do to make the life of a soldier more pleasant.

Thirsty Burglars.

Two traps and two miscreants about town, it is not known which at present, although certain suspects are being watched, entered Stanford Brothers' saloon near the depot at 4 o'clock Thursday morning and helped themselves liberally to whiskey, crackers, cheese, and cakes. After they had refreshed themselves to the full content of the inner man they put the nickel-in-the-slot machine under their arm and marched off with it. They did not disturb any of the groceries or supplies and seemed intent only on getting some free drinks.
